

I am not in favor of an operator having more than one chance for a vanity call per date. The rules governing Amateur Radio have been and should be to favor no one. If an operator can purchase ten chances for a particular call he is given favoritism over the fellow who struggles to remain among our ranks simply because the second fellow cannot afford to compete in the money race.

Holt Thornton, AC4UD